THURSDAY, APRIL 29.

Boycotting might be turned to a good account by using it against oleomargarine.

On account of the backwardness of the season, poems on spring have been nipped in the bud.

Congress is said to be far behind in its work. Congress has never been known to be anywhere else.

In thirty-one weeks Mary Anderson's receipts were a little over $350,000. Her two weeks' engagement in San Francisco amounted to $28,000.

Ex-President Arthur, it is said, wants to write his memoirs before he dies. The ex-president's reputation is well established, and he should not mar it by writing a book.

The more this administration administers the affairs of the government the more the people are becoming convinced that democratic platform pledges are not intended to be kept.

The south seems to have a double grievance, first that the confederacy was knocked to pieces twenty-one years ago; and second that two years ago they didn't elect a president who would satisfy the organized appetite.

Some democratic papers do a good deal of grumbling when they hear of an ex-confederate being a republican. The democratic party, it seems, wants the first mortgage on all ex-confederates.

It has been very wisely suggested that the Knights of Labor become Knights of Labor and Law. The Knights would greatly strengthen their own cause by becoming Knights of law as well as of labor.

The cost of maintaining the state institutions for the month of April was as follows, the bills having just been audited by the State Board of Supervision: State Hospital for Insane, $6,733.60, Northern Hospital for the Insane, $7,678.87; School for the Deaf, $2,883.84; School for the Blind, $1,276.86; Industrial School for Boys, $8,102.86; State Prison, $4,288.77; total, $30,964.71.

Another of the old-fashioned democratic appointments has been made, the president having nominated one Andrew F. Fay, of Illinois, to be consul at Stellin, Germany. Fay is a saloon keeper, and an indictment for selling liquor without a license and to minors and drunkards, hangs over his head. The administration is doing some lively work in turning the rascals in.

Statistics show that during the last 135 years 632 theatres have been destroyed by fire, and the number of people burned to death in these fires is 6,573, or an average of 48 a year. Of these 632 theatres 174 have been burned during the last five years, a fact which shows that such casualties are rapidly increasing.

On Tuesday last, in the Ohio senate, Mr. Kemp created much of a sensation in that body by stating that after his election he had been visited by a certain person who told him that he could have money enough to purchase a farm if he would vote against John Sherman for United States senator. Probably this is true, as anything corrupting reported as coming from Ohio, is likely to be true. But it is a wonder, as Mr. Kemp is an Ohio man, that he didn't take the farm.

Says one who is deeply in sympathy with the workingmen: "The best advice that could be given to those who are agitating the eight hour movement, is to make haste slowly. The capacity to pay labor has been diminished to the extent of scores of millions by the present labor troubles. No new capital is now seeking industrial enterprises; much capital already invested in them is aiming to retire, and public and private improvements have been halted to an extent that can hardly be calculated. As most of the eight hour advocates thoughtlessly associate ten hours' pay with eight hours' labor, they should consider well before they strike a blow that would inevitably diminish still farther the employing power of the country. There is now little enough for labor; don't make it less."

When Jefferson Davis made his speech at Montgomery, Alabama, on Wednesday, he stood before 20,000 of his countrymen, and said: "In 1861 you were full of joyous hopes. Now you are wrapped in the mantle of regret." It is well to remark that this is the sentiment of the wing of the democracy that controls this government to-day—the wing that may be always relied upon to give a solid electoral vote for a democratic candidate for president. The regret that Mr. Davis speaks of is the regret that the Union was saved. Regret the rebel armies were not always victorious. Regret that the northern loyal sentiment was stronger than the "spirit of liberty" in the south. Regret that the slaveholders' rebellion was weaker than the federal armies. Regret that slavery was abolished by the republican party. Regret that at Appomattox Grant did not surrender to Lee instead of Lee surrendering to Grant. It is true that "this mantle of regret" does not cover the entire democratic party in the north, but in the south, as Mr. Davis says, the old spirit of '61 is not dead.

THE MENOMINEE INDIANS.

A bill has passed the senate without a single opposition vote to sell the pine lands in this state which belongs to the Menominee Indians. It has been shown upon the authority of their tribal physician, that the mortality among them exceeds the births, and that primarily on account of the scarcity of food among them. A large proportion of the infants die, and that of inanition, another term for starvation. The Inter Ocean has called special attention to the bill in question, and especially to the present condition of the Menominee tribe, and says: "The bill as reported ought to insure a good price for the property, provided only it is known that the sale is to occur. And one object had in view in this connection is to call attention to the sale contemplated in the bill. It is to be a sale by auction, and so far so good but the publicity demanded is only advertisement in two or three Wisconsin papers. The Inter Ocean is the only metropolitan newspaper to give any real publicity to the provisions of the bill, and no one at all acquainted with the way many a fortune has been made in pine lands will find it hard to believe that great care will be taken in certain quarters to reduce the competitive bidding to the minimum. But we would say to all investers in pine lands, 'watch out' for the Menominee sale. The reservation is on the Upper Wolf and Oconto rivers, some fifty miles or so from Green Bay. It consists of 230,400 acres, usually described as very poor land, and so it is from the stand point of agriculture, but in the matter of timber it is among the very best in the country.

"It is only necessary for the members of the Chicago Lumberman's Exchange to know that such a bill is pending to secure sharp competition, in the event of its passage, but the wider the range of advertising the better the prospect of a good price for the property sold.

"But to realize a good price for the land or trees sold would only cover one half of the ground. The Menominees are incapable of taking care of themselves. Ignorant, addicted to whisky and improvident to the last degree, if the purchase money were put in their hands they would get rid of it in a short time, and be the worse for having had it. The bill may possibly provide against the squandering of the proceeds, but if so it was very imperfectly reported. According to the report sent over the wires there are no safe guards provided, and it is the duty of the house of representatives to carefully look into the matter.

"There is just one safe and practicable way to conserve the Indian interest, and that is for the United States government to take the purchase money and invest it in government bonds, to be held in trust for the Menominees. There is nothing novel in this suggestion. It is simply extending to this Wisconsin fragment of the once great Algonquin tribe, or family of tribes, the same trusteeship which the government now sustains toward some other tribes, notably the Cherokees. For this later tribe the government holds bonds to the amount of several millions, and the trust is perpetual, as it ought to be. The Menominees, in like manner should be made secure against the wolf at the door Those lands, properly sold and the proceeds held in trust, would yield a comfortable support so long as the tribe and the national government endure. To allow the purchase money to be filched by traders and other ringsters would be a burning shame.

"Before us the state census of 1885, and in this connection we give the Indian population by counties, as gleaned from the pages of this census report:

Adams	671	Lincoln	134
Ashland	480	Marathon	120
Barron	6	Monroe	161
Burnett	724	Polk	93
Columbia	20	Sawyer	1,070
Forrest	117	Shawano	1,811
Jackson	618	Taylor	4
Juneau	68
Langlade	43	Total	5,561

"These people are, for the most part found in the pineries, and the same policy substantially which is demanded for the protection of the Menominees in their property rights, and the extension to them of opportunities for labor, should be extended to the other Indians of the state. They must be made useful laborers in the pineries, or at no very distant day, they will become paupers—or worse starvelings."

BOISTEROUS STATESMEN.

ONE OF THEM GETS A SUPERABUNDANCE OF APPLAUSE.

Scintillations of Humor Over the River and Harbor Bill—Senator Frye on Toilers' Troubles and Tariff—Professor Bell's Rich Wife—Business in Congress.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 29.—There was some fun in the house Wednesday while the river and harbor bill was up. The amusement began when Beach of New York took the floor to speak against making an appropriation for the Yellowstone river. He said that three years ago he had tried to catch fish in that river and his efforts had been as fruitless as this appropriation would be to improve its navigation. Its waters are like those of the broad Juniata, and as they leaped tumultuously over the grave bed, they gleamed in the sunshine with a silvery gleam which attracted and facinated the eye [laughter and applause]; but the course of the stream was crooked and the swift current threw up shoals [here he was again greeted with applause which lasted so long that he was compelled to yield the floor and obtain leave to present his remarks in The Record.

Hepburn, of Iowa, offered an amendment to the Missouri river appropriation providing for the expenditure of the appropriation by the secretary of war without the intervention of the Missouri river commission. He attacked the commission, charging that their salaries—amounting to $192,000 per annum—were more than one-third of the entire appropriation made in the section under consideration. A half-penny worth of bread to an infinite deal of sack, it seemed to him. He asserted, and challenged contradiction, that there was no commerce worthy of the name of the Missouri river; ten steamboats had passed Council Bluffs in five years. Again, the river meandered all over the country; he had known it to change its course eight miles in a night.

Willis humorously suggested that the river might make its way into Iowa next year, and the gentleman would then regret his speech.

Warner of Missouri defended the commission, declaring that its members were actuated by motives of honesty and that their only purpose was to utilize the river and cut down the exhorbitant freight rates of railroads.

Blanchard of Louisiana quoted from a letter written by Hepburn to the Missouri river convention, in which he expressed his sympathy with the honest efforts to improve the waterways of the country. Now the gentleman had said that the Missouri river was not one of the waterways of the country.

"And the worst of it is," suggested Reed of Maine, "he has proved it." A man, he continued, who was not in favor of all honest improvements of waterways was a foolish man. But did that mean that congress was in favor of throwing money into every waterway?

Grosvenor of Ohio defended the committee on rivers and harbors, and intimated that Hepburn's opposition to the Missouri river appropriation arose from the fact that two lines of railway ran along the river.

Hepburn repelled the insinuation. He had no interest in any railway more than any other citizen, but he was not one of those, like the gentleman from Ohio, who were always ready to howl against corporations because in certain circles votes could be gained by it.

MONEY FOR MAIL CARRIERS.

Proposed Subsidy for American Ships—Frye on Toil and Tariff.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 29.—The postoffice appropriation bill started a debate in the senate Wednesday that gives an opening for a long debate on several important questions. The senate committee has amended the bill by putting in an appropriation of $800,000 to be expended in remunerating American steamships for carrying ocean mail, the object being to encourage the establishment of ocean steamship lines by American enterprise. Beck opposed it, saying that his objection was that it looked to crippling our postal facilities rather than advancing them. In our inland mail transportation, we looked only to the question of getting the best service. We did not care whether the wagon in which it was carried was built in New Jersey or in Paris. This amendment sought to pay American ships that might take twice as long to deliver the mails as other ships might take.

Plumb cared a good deal where the wagons were built. He would have them all built in America. He would have every instrumentality of American ambition and effort made in America. Referring to our foreign commerce, Plumb said we had given up the trade of Mexico to Germany and Great Britain.

Frye said it was asserted by Carrol D. Wright that 1,000,000 men were idle in this country at present. When the Knights of Labor struck for any purpose they found many men willing and anxious to take the places vacated. The great question was, how did it happen that there were enough men to take the places of the strikers? It came from the fact the products of our factories, farms and mines was more than we could use. Last year we produced fifteen billion dollars worth of goods, and exported only 2 per cent. of the whole. We imported from Great Britain, last year, $37,000,000 dollars worth of cotton goods—the cotton for which had been raised in the United States. Every dollars worth of those goods might as well have been made in the United States. If it had been, we could have given employment to 100,000 more men than had found employment. The last tariff commission made a reduction of from 10 to 33 per cent. in the duty on cotton goods. That increased the importations, but stopped work. The present Morrison bill proposes another reduction of from 16 to 33 per cent. of the duty, and, if it passes, the importations of cotton goods, instead of $37,000,000, will become $75,000,000 a year; and there will then be 200,000 men less at work here, and so many more to engage in strikes.

Beck interrupted and said he thought he would help Frye a little in his argument.

Frye replied that he did not want any help. He then continued at some length to show that mail facilities lay at the root of commercial activity, making many citations from commercial statistics. To show the popularity of American goods in South America, he said that one-half the English goods sold to South America were fraudulently marked "American manufacture," so as to secure a more ready acceptance among the people.

Beck said he would answer Frye's argument, and Frye remarked that he might have a word of reply to make when Beck should conclude.

HOLDING UP THEIR HANDS.

Words of Sympathy for Those Who Fought for Ireland's Freedom.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 29.—There was a big mass-meeting here Wednesday night at Masonic temple for "home rule for Ireland." A score or more of senators and congressmen sat upon the platform, and the large hall was crowded with people, when Congressman Randall, who presided, called the meeting to order. A number of prominent public men who could not attend, expressed their sympathy and approval by letter. Among the letters received was one from Samuel J. Tilden, in which he expressed his regret at not being able to attend a meeting so full of interest, but none the less joining in applauding the exertions of the illustrious statesman of England, Gladstone, and the great Irish leader, Parnell, in behalf of the cause of home rule.

Letters were also read from Senator Sherman, assuring the meeting of his hearty sympathy in the movement for home rule in Ireland, and from Senator Logan, stating that he had ever been and now was for loosening the grasp of the iron hand of England from the throat of the Irish people."

Speeches were made by Randall, Van Wyck, Gibson of West Virginia, Phelps, O'Hara, Butterworth, McAdoo, McMillan, Lawlor, Harmon and others all congratulatory of the situation and sanguine of the final success of the efforts of Gladstone and Parnell. The most noticeable speech was made by Riddleberger who advised Irishmen not to rest satisfied with half measures, and to accept Gladstone's bill as one would accept a breastwork in war, and behind that breastwork to keep their muskets loaded. Gladstone had been the meanest coercionist of the century until he was cowhided by Irish valor into a confessional of English wrong. Gladstone's bill, he said, was confession without restitution, and so he advised Irishmen to agitate for home rule without any limitation.

Representative McKinley, of Ohio, rebuking Senator Riddleberger's criticism of Gladstone and his bill, declared that he did not come to find fault with the great English statesman, who was fighting side by side with Parnell for Irish independence.

By the unanimous vote of the meeting a cablegram was sent to both Gladstone and Parnell conveying the most profound respect and sympathy of our most eminent citizens from all the states, governors, members of congress and other leaders of public opinion.

The greatest enthusiasm prevailed during the speech-making, and the meeting did not break up until a late hour.

THE TELEPHONE INQUIRY.

Prof. Bell Tells What He Knows About the Matter.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 29.—The first witness before the Pan electric committee Wednesday was Professor Bell the inventor: He said he patented the telephone in 1876, but before that he had parted with all his inventions to an association. Hubbard and Sanders agreed to pay all expenses of experiments and patents and introducing the inventions, and each was to have one-third interest in the association; the agreement was a mere verbal one. He had given his one-third interest to his wife when he went to Europe in 1878. His wife is Mr. Hubbard's daughter, and she holds a proportionate amount of the stock of the American Bell Telephone company, her one-third interest having grown at this time to $10,000,000. Professor Bell said that feeling some pride in being on the stock list of the company he had purchased one share and this was all the stock he owned. He knew very little about the management of the company.

Gardner B. Hubbard was the next witness. He corroborated Professor Bell's testimony regarding the agreement between them. He was vigorously pumped regarding the financial affairs of the company, but told nothing new. With reference to the article that afterward appeared in The World he said he got it from Professor Bell, who said it was a curious and interesting paper, and that he got it from Gen. Sypher, of this city. The directors had already decided not to publish anything regarding the proposed government suit, but Mr. Hubbard sent it to President Forbes. Witness did not know how it got into The World.

Professor Bell was recalled and the following note came with the article when he received it, dated Oct. 26, 1885:

"DEAR SIR: I hand you herewith an authentic statement of facts compiled by my associate, Mr. E. N. Hill, which may interest you. The scheme to destroy your patents was tolerably well matured, and it remains to be seen whether this reform administration will lend itself to its consummation. Truly yours,

J. HALE SYPHER."

Professor Bell regarded it as a voluntary evidence of friendship from a comparative stranger, and did not know how it came to be printed in The World.

Mr. O'Connor, who was private secretary to S. S. Cox while he was in congress, said Cox had been given Pan-Electric stock by Dr. Rogers, but had returned it.

OUR LORDS AND COMMONS.

The Run of Affairs in the National Legislature—Principal Events.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 29.—Call rose to a personal explanation in the senate Wednesday, and denounced as a lie a Florida newspaper's statement that he was getting rich. Bills were passed authorizing the construction of bridges across the Mississippi river at Keithsburg, Ills., and Winona and Red Wing, Minn.; across the Illinois river at Lacon, Ills., and across the Des Moines river in Iowa for the New York & Council Bluffs railway. Mitchell spoke on the Chinese question, declaring that eastern papers and congressmen misinterpreted the coast in that matter and warning the senators that it was a question they must face. The postoffice appropriation was taken up and an amendment offered appropriating $800,000 to be used by the postmaster general in payment to American vessels at a rate not greater than $1 per mile each outward trip for carrying mail by the most direct routes to South and Central America, China, and Australia, and authorizing contracts for five years. Debate arising on this, the senate, pending the discussion, went into executive session and soon thereafter adjourned.

A bill was introduced in the house imposing a tax on oleomargerine. A bill authorizing the improvement of the water power at Little Falls, Minn., was passed, and after the transaction of some routine business, the river and harbor bill was taken up in committee of the whole. An amendment was offered cutting out the Missouri river commission from receiving any of the appropriation for that river, pending a vote upon which the house adjourned.

Another Departing Diplomat.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 29.—Senor Elmore, who for the past five years has been minister of Peru at Washington, presented his letters of recall Wednesday and took formal leave of the president. President Cleveland, in taking leave of the retiring diplomat, said: "The opportunity now offered by the presentation of your letter of recall, enables me, in bidding you farewell, to extend the hand of friendship and recognition to the government of your country, which in the present period of transition, is a hopeful expression of the desire and intention of the Peruvian people to adopt permanent measures of constitutional government." The president expressed regret that the policy of economy adopted by the Peruvian government should have resulted in the recall of that nation's representative here, and wished that the mission would soon be re-established.

THE ST. LOUIS CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE

Said to Have Induced the Knights to Declare the Strike Off—No Vacancies Says Gould.

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—The probabilities point to an early close of the strike upon the Gould system. This happy state of affairs is to be brought about by the citizen's committee appointed some weeks ago. It seems that when the citizen's committee discovered that it was useless trying to effect a compromise of any kind with the railroads, they approached the leading members and the executive board of the Knights of Labor and brought every argument possible to bear upon them to declare the strike off. Wednesday night a preliminary meeting of the citizen's committee was held, at which resolutions were adopted urging the executive board of the knights to declare the strike off, and pledging the committee to use every means within its power to bring about the much desired arbitration with the railroad company for the purpose of securing the re-employment of all strikers who have not been guilty of infraction of the law or offenses against the railroad company. These resolutions will be placed before the general executive board of the knights, and it is considered certain that they will officially declare the strike off within the next twenty-four hours.

GREAT GATHERING OF EX-CONFEDERATES AT MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Speeches by Jeff Davis and Gen. J. B. Gordon — The Ex-President Drops a Few Tears on the Grave of the Lost Cause—An Enthusiastic Time.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 29.—Owing to continued rains Tuesday night and Wednesday, the programme was changed as to the place of speaking on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the proposed monument to Confederate dead on Capitol hill in this city. The steps of the capitol were selected, and thousands of people listened to the addresses of Jefferson Davis and Gen. John B. Gordon, despite the rain. Mr. Davis stood on the historical spot where he was inaugurated in February, 1861. The capitol grounds, balconies and steps were jammed with people. About 2:30 p. m. the sound of the approaching band was heard, and in a few minutes the shouts and cheers of the immense crowd made the grounds tremble. Gen. Pettus, the grand marshal, and his aides, headed the procession. Then followed Mr. Davis, escorted by Mayor Reese, of this city, Gen. Gordon and Governor O'Neal, and Misses Davis and Gordon, accompanied by Capts. Bragg and Sayre. The various state military companies and associations of vetrans made up the remainder of the procession.

Mayor Reese, in introducing Mr. Davis, spoke as follows:

"MY COUNTRYMEN: With emotion of profound reverence I introduce the highest type of southern manhood, the Hon. Jefferson Davis."

Prolonged cheers greeted the appearance of the venerable Mr. Davis, and it was several minutes before silence reigned. Mr. Davis looked hale and hearty, although he has been recently indisposed, and spoke in clear, ringing tones, making it easy for every one of his auditors to hear him plainly. He spoke as follows:

"MY COUNTRYMEN: It would be vain if I should attempt to express to you the deep gratification which I feel at this demonstration, but I know that it is not personal, and, therefore, I feel the more deeply grateful, because it is for a sentiment far dearer to me than myself. [Applause.] You have passed through the terrible ordeal of a war, which Alabama did not seek. When she felt her wrongs too grievous for further toleration she sought a peacable solution. That being denied her, the thunders of war came raging over the land. Then her people rose in their majesty. Gray haired men, sires and beardless boys eagerly rushed to the front. It was that war which Christianity alone approved—the holy war for defense. Well do I remember seeing your gentle boys, so small, to use the farmers phrase, that they might have been called "seed corn" moving on with eager steps and fearless brow to the carnival of death; and I have also looked upon them when their knapsacks and muskets seemed heavier than the boys; and o'er my eyes a mother weeping crept. Those days have passed. Many of those boys have found a nameless grave. But they are not dead. They live in the memory, and their spirits are in that grand column above, which is marching on with unfaltering steps toward the goal of constitutional liberty. [Great cheering.]

"It were vain to attempt, as I have already said, to express my gratitude to you. I am standing now very nearly on the spot where I stood when I took the oath of office in 1861. Your demonstration now exceeds that which welcomed me then. This shows that the spirit of southern liberty is not dead. [Immense applause.] Then we were full of pious hope with the full prospect of achieving all you desired, and now you are wrapped in the mantle of regret. And yet that regret only manifests more profoundly, and does not obliterate, the expression of your sentiments I felt last night as I approached the Exchange hotel, from the gallery of which your peerless orator, William L. Yancey, introduced me to the people of Montgomery and commanded me in language which only his eloquence could yield, and which far exceeded my merit; I felt, I say again, that I was coming to my home, coming to the land where liberty dies not, and here sentiments will live forever. [Applause.]

"I have been promised by my friends that I should not be called upon to make a speech, and therefore I will only extend to you my heartfelt thanks. God bless you, one and all, old men and boys, and the ladies above all others, who never faltered in our direst need."

Enthusiastic and prolonged cheering followed the speech and Mr. Davis, having taken a seat, was forced to rise and bow to the right and left.

Governor E. A. O'Neal then introduced Gen. John B. Gordon in a very neat and appropriate speech. Gen. Gordon defended the building of monuments to the Confederate dead and declared that he pitied the man in the north who objected. The national effect of such events as the present one, he said, would inevitably be to increase the patriotism of those who took part in them. He said:

"Let each section, therefore, while appreciating the virtues of the other, add to the aggregate patriotism of the country by perpetuating in brass and marble shafts and granite piles the valor of its sons, and emblazon every page of its history with the glory of their achievements." He honored Charles Sumner for his greatness of heart when he proposed to erase the names of Union victories from the battle flags of the north, but did not approve its policy or expediency. He then paid a tribute to the bravery of the southern soldiers who, while numbering in all less than one sixth of their foes, kept up resistance for four years, and ascribed their success so far to the fight for self-defense they were engaged in. He closed as follows:

"And now, let the manly virtues of the fathers and the stainless purity of the mothers dwell richly in their sons and their daughters; let personal and public honor be the commanding law both of your thought and of your action: * * * let your fidelity to the whole country be as conspicuous in peace as was your devotion to the south during devastating war: let the south's plighted faith to the permanent union of the states and the legitimate results of the war be forever unquestioned. * * * Then, in the march of the republic to its high destiny, the south will resume her place with the ranks at the head of the column, and the names of southern statesmen and southern soldiers will live among the most conspicuous and honored in our country's history."

Gen. Gordon spoke with much force and vigor and was heartily applauded.

After the firing of 100 guns by the Montgomery Field artillery, Mr. Davis, accompanied by Col. Reese, returned to his carriage, to which were hitched four beautiful grays, and was driven to the city hall building. A reception was held in the office of the Alabama Monument association. Crowds of citizens shook the hand of the venerable ex-president of the Confederacy. At night a theatre party, followed by a german at the Joie de Vie club, complimentary to Miss Davis, was given.

A Druggist's Story.

Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, druggist, Newburg, N. Y., writes us: "I have for the past ten years sold several gross of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the lungs I can say of it what I cannot say of any other medicine. I have never heard a customer speak of it but to praise its virtues in the highest manner. I have recommended it in a great many cases of whooping cough, with the happiest effects. I have used it in my own family for many years; in fact, always have a bottle in the medicine closet ready for use."

Iowa Democrats in Council.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 29.—About 100 Democrats from all over the state participated in the deliberations of the conference called at the Hawkeye club-rooms, Wednesday, by Chairman Kiane, who presided. The sense of the assembly was shown by the adoption of a resolution requesting the state committee to promptly organize the campaign of 1886, and to leave no legitimate means untried that augured success.

The democratic state committee held a long sitting at night with closed doors. The chief action taken was the reference of the time and date of the next convention to the executive committee. It was stated that Des Moines would certainly be the place and the date likely to be late in June.

The Mississippi Flood.

HELENA, ARK., April 29.—The river is now above the highest point reached in 1882, but both the St. Francis and Mississippi rivers have ceased to rise. There was a general break-up in the Arkansas levees, from the break, ten miles below here, down to where the levee ends at Old Town, a distance of twenty miles. All efforts to hold the remaining parts of the levee have been abandoned, and the water is now sweeping through in numerous places, the breaks ranging from 100 feet to half a mile in width. Every acre of land subject to an overflow from Helena to Laconia will be inundated. The back water is now coming into the city slowly, but will probably only fill the ditches.

Tuesday night thirty masked men overpowered the guard and took Jones out to hang him. He resisted, broke away and the mob fired, riddling him with bullets and killing him. During the excitement a gun was fired by accident and one of the guards was shot in the back.

The questions in the case involve the construction and effect of the third section of the Edmunds' law. George Ticknor Curtis, and Franklin S. Richards, counsel for Snow, opened the argument.

—About four o'clock at the dawning of an Easter day, Francis Lenore, a pretty little gem that brightened the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMellan for two years nine months and four days, left them sad and lonely. Only those who have said the parting word with an only child can realize how lonely their home will be. Funeral services were held at the house Monday at 1:30 p. m. After the Scriptural reading the choir sang "Safe in the arms of Jesus" followed with prayer by Rev. Thos. Potter. Elder Milton Wells spoke very briefly from words found in John xiv-i: "Let not your hearts be troubled ye believe in God, believe also in me."

The remains were taken to the cemetery at Orfordville for interment. As we took the last look and lingeringly passed by, we could but say, "How sweet be thy repose." As the damp clouds covered the narrow bed, and the wind swayed the tall evergreens and lisped through the drooping boughs of the weeping willow, we could almost hear them say—

Tender shepard Thou hast stifled
Now thy little one's brief weeping;
O! how patient, calm and mild,
In her cradle of earth she's sleeping,
And no cry of anguish sore,
Heaves that little bosom more.

In the land of sin and care,
Lord, thou would no longer leave her.
To thy meadows bright and fair,
Lovingly thou dost receive her,
There to reign with Thee in light,
Clad in robes of spotless white.

Oh! Lord, grant that we
As she lives, may soon be living:
And the lovely pastures see.
That its heavenly food is giving.
Then the gain of death we'll prove
Though Thou hast taken what we most love.

POSTMASTER GENERAL VILAS' HOME.

Postmaster General Vilas hails from Madison, Wis., and that extremely pretty city is very proud of her handsome and eloquent cabinet officer, who, at the time he was chosen by President Cleveland as one of his advisers, represented her in the Wisconsin Legislature. Madison is also proud because she is the State Capital and possesses a very imposing Capitol building standing in a lovely park. Then Madison may also be proud of Wisconsin University, with its hundreds of students and able faculty; of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home, of the State Lunatic Asylum buildings, and of the many industries which go to make up the prosperity of the thriving little capital. All these institutions have grown up since 1836, at which time Madison was in the wilderness. Pushing and intelligent citizens have made her what she is, and it is pleasant to observe that Madison still possesses a very large proportion of clear-headed men and women, who appreciate a good thing when they see it and are glad to make its merits known.

One of this class of citizens is L. A. Rogers, the baggage-master of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, who is well known to all Madisonians and by a large part of the traveling public. Mr. Rogers has this to say of how he was cured of a long-standing complaint:

"I suffered with rheumatism for some time, so that it was with great pain that I could move around at all, and I also spent many sleepless nights. I am glad to say that after using two bottles of Athlophoros I am entirely free from pain. No one need suffer from rheumatism if they will give it a fair trial."

George W. Huntley, a dealer in groceries at No. 66 Pinckney street, and a leading merchant and old resident, commends the medicine as follows:

"I have used Athlophoros for rheumatism and can most cheerfully say with the most satisfactory results."

"Mary J. Whiting, of No. 810 University avenue, who has lived in Madison for thirty years and is known and respected by every one, says:

"I have been a victim of severe rheumatism for the past three years, and having tried almost every remedy known without any avail I was much discouraged. Last winter I was afflicted much worse than ever and was induced to try Athlophoros. I am glad to state that I am now free from pain and I pronounce the medicine a God-send for the afflicted."

To these words of commendation may be added those of Mr. T. R. Lutzow, a well-known citizen who says of Athlophoros:

"My wife was seriously afflicted with rheumatism, principally in her arms. She has now used two bottles of Athlophoros and is well and free from pain. I can cheerfully recommend the remedy to my friends and the public as being all that it claims to be."

William Sommers, foreman for B. F. McMillan & Bro., of McMillan, Wis., says that seven bottles of Athlophoros relieved him entirely of rheumatism of five years' standing, which was so acute at times as to compel him to give up work. Three bottles entirely cured his brother-in-law, Louis Zimmering, whom rheumatism had compelled to give up his place as edger in a saw mill. He now fills his old position without the least inconvenience.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

THE CLAIMS OF GREECE.

They Must Be Satisfied or War Will Be Declared.

ATHENS, April 29.—A deputation of citizens waited upon Premier Delyannis Wednesday and presented him with a series of resolutions adopted by a meeting of citizens indorsing the attitude of the government and promising their fullest support. M. Delyannis, in replying to the address, declared that the government had not promised France that Greece would disarm. On the contrary, Greece had accepted the mediation of France upon the assurance that a speedy settlement of the question at issue would be brought about and the claims of Greece recognized. Unless these claims were soon settled, M. Delyannis said, Greece would declare war against Turkey and only yield when overcome by the armed action of the powers.

After the Above, How's This.

LONDON, April 29.—The powers, in view of the willingness of Greece to submit to the wishes of Europe, have decided to order the retirement of the combined foreign fleet from Greek waters.

Not Much Use in a Pinch.

LONDON, April 29.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, in a special before the chamber of commerce at Bristol, Wednesday, said that trade has more to fear from unwise taxation and ill-considered legislation, than it has to hope for in any good that parliament may do. The local authorities, Mr. Beach said, are able to do a great deal more good in times of depression than parliament is capable of doing.

AN EPIDEMIC OF FIRES

Caused by Incendiaries in Gallcia—A Miscreant Shot Dead.

VIENNA, April 29.—Wholesale fires are becoming so prevalent in Austria, particularly in Austrian Galicia, as to create a general feeling of alarm. The town of Friedland, in Moravia, has been almost entirely burned, and ten persons are reported to have been killed. Dobrowlany, Boyaniec and Chyrow, towns in Austrian Galicia, have been totally destroyed, and the people left wholly destitute. At Sanok a man was caught in the act of firing a building Wednesday and immediately shot dead

Muscular Christians, Surely.

DETROIT, April 29.—Particulars of a most brutal glove fight, which took place in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Wednesday afternoon, have just leaked out. Two young men named Lynch and Elliott had an old score to settle, and chose the above named time and place. They fought thirteen rounds, when both men agreed to call it a draw. Both men were badly punished. The affair is likely to create a lively scandal.

Cora Lee Hears of Graham's Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 29.—Cora Lee Graham was informed Wednesday of the lynching of Graham. She is ill with typhoid fever, and exclaimed: "My God! my God! is it true?" and threw her hands in the air and fell senseless to the floor. Graham's ante-mortem statement is already having its effect, and the tide is turning slowly in Mrs. Molloy's and Cora's favor.

Explosion of a Lard Tank.

CHICAGO, April 29.—At about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon while a gang of men were working around a large iron lard tank in Tobey & Booths packing house, from some unknown cause it exploded. James Sanford, aged 60, was instantly killed. Pat Muldoon, aged 37, and Matt Acton, aged 14, were seriously hurt. Six others were more or less injured.

Hail Storm in Texas.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 29.—A severe hail storm prevailed Tuesday at Calevaras and Moore's Hollow, this county. It covered an area ten miles wide and many miles long. Vegetations was in places destroyed by the hailstones which covered the ground to the depth of several inches.

Ely's Cream Balm is an article of undoubted merit. It has no rival as a catarrh remedy. It is pleasant and easy to use, being applied with the finger. It is absorbed, cleansing the passages of poisonous virus and healing the sore and inflamed membrane. Beneficial results are obtained from a few applications and a thorough treatment will cure. Price 50c.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh (to which eastern persons are subject who come to live here.) It has proved a cure.—B. F. M. Weeks, Denver, Col.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovey for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

It Looked Like a Quarrel.

"Have you and Clara had a quarrel, Mr. Featherly?" inquired Bobby, as that young man stretched his legs under the supper-table and unfolded his napkin.

"Certainly not," replied Bobby's sister with asperity, "don't be foolish."

"Well, then," persisted Bobby, doggedly, "when he left you last night at the front door what did you call him an insatiate monster for?"—New York Times.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Rancho and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and the money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

A Little Sufferer

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me great pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now, consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.
May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

A Republican Captures the Office of Street Commissioner.

Other Questions Connected With the Organization and New Business.

The new common council convened last evening at the council chamber by call of the mayor, His Honor, Mayor Winans, calling the council to order at half past seven o'clock.

City Clerk C. E. Church called the roll, and all the aldermen—Alderman T. T. Croft and C. H. Carpenter, of the first ward; W. H. Judd and John Thoroughgood, of the second ward; Benj. George and C. C. McLean, of the fourth ward, and J. B. McLean and John Casey, of the fifth ward—answered to their names.

Mayor Winans read the following message:

Gentlemen of the Council:

Having entered upon another fiscal year under the charter, and with a new council, although composed largely of members of the old, custom, if not the letter of the law, requires from the mayor such information and recommendation as to him may seem advantageous to the city.

The office which you severally hold is one of trust, responsibility and power. Additional responsibilities have been intrusted to you, in conjunction with the board of water commissioners recently created for the construction of a system of water works, and the discharge of your various duties will take much of your time as well as require your careful consideration.

Such of you as have heretofore served the city know that your duties are not alone discharged here, but rest largely in the care and superintendence of its streets and side walks, many of which are now in a deplorable condition, and require immediate attention.

Actions are now pending against the city for the recovery of large sums for injuries by reason of alleged defects—especially in sidewalks, and many more actions will follow unless their condition be speedily changed for the better. Their repair rests with you under the charter; your power is ample, and if not exercised, the blame will be yours. A capable and efficient street commissioner is of great service, still you will bear in mind that he in no way releases you from responsibility, as under existing law he is without authority to buy a pound of nails, or a plank, or make a repair except by the direction of the council.

The city is substantially free from bonded and other indebtedness, a blessing enjoyed by but few municipalities, and not much longer to be the pride and boast of this.

WATER WORKS.

The construction of water works, and other contemplated improvements and advantages will cost a good deal of money, and although we may postpone the day of payment, it will surely come, and with it greatly increased taxation.

It is to be hoped that the expenditures so to be made will bear all the fruit the most sanguine expect therefrom. Many who favor them have doubted the expediency of entering thereon in the present depressed condition of trade and labor, but the majority have seemingly decreed otherwise, and we, as their representatives, will of course respect their opinions and wishes. Under the law, it is the duty of the board of water commissioners to determine the "mode, plan or system" of supplying the city with water, and to cause designs and specifications to be made and submitted to the council for approval, amendment and modifications or rejection. And until both plan and cost shall have your approval, no contract for their construction can be made.

FLAGMEN AT THE CROSSINGS.

It is cause for congratulation that by order of the common council, flagmen have been placed at some of our street railway crossings, thereby greatly lessening the danger to public travel. Were the same streets freed from their unnecessary use as store and switch yards, many of our citizens would be relieved of a constant danger and an undoubted nuisance. The city possesses the power to prevent their use for such purposes, and in my judgment it should be exercised.

THE EVANSVILLE CUT-OFF,

so termed, I deem a matter of great importance to the city for various and obvious reasons, and of still greater importance to the railway company. The question for our consideration is, can the company afford to punish the city by its non-construction should we refuse to give the aid demanded? The cost of the right-of-way will soon be approximated, and then we must determine whether the benefits will equal or exceed the cost to the city.

STREET RAILWAY.

During last fall a franchise was granted for thirty years to a corporation or association, for the building of street railways. Such was the haste to give us one or more lines that time could hardly be given the council to duly consider the proposition, and yet we have no street railways, or evidence that we are to have any in the near future. The time in which to begin their construction was limited to June 1st, and if not begun on or before that time I would recommend that the franchise granted be then annuled—and the city restored to its right to negotiate with other persons upon terms and conditions hereafter to be agreed upon.

OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

is in excellent condition. Two new hose carriages have been purchased within the past year, and are "things of beauty" as well as of utility, and the department is justly proud of them. The able and interesting report of the chief engineer, which has been published in pamphlet form, is of great value, and should be read by all who desire special information on the subject treated therein.

OUR SCHOOLS,

now under the able and efficient superintendence of Prof. Keyes are being conducted to the satisfaction of our people. It has occurred to me that night schools would afford to many advantages now denied them, and should the board of education favorably consider the suggestion and make the experiment, you doubtless would make the necessary appropriation should additional funds be required.

SALOON LICENSES

in the city are fixed by law at $200 for retailing and a like sum for wholesale, and you therefore are without discretion as to the price to be paid. When entering upon the duties of the office I have the honor to hold, I recommended that license be withheld from those who in the past have willfully violated the laws and ordinances relating thereto; and when granted and the right abused, the same should be promptly revoked, which recommendation I again renew. In so far as I know the business is more orderly conducted than in most cities of this character, and if those engaged in the traffic would co-operate with our public officials, many of its bad features could be obviated, and the existing prejudice against the business be greatly allayed.

THE CITY LIBRARY

is well patronized, and is of incstimable value to our citizens. I have not been informed of its wants for the present year but I commend it to your generous consideration.

HIGHWAYS.

My attention has been called many times to the condition of the Monterey highway leading into the town of Rock, and appeals are daily made by those obliged to travel over it for its repair. It has been in an almost impassable condition during the winter and spring, and is really a discredit to the city. Material is there at hand to put it in good condition at trifling cost, and I earnestly recommend that it be done without unnecessary delay. During last season some contractors, to avoid long hauls in excavating cellars, placed the earth on adjacent streets to their injury, and thereby in some instances changed the established grade. This notably was done on River street, and what was before a good graveled roadway has been utterly ruined.

CITY HOSPITAL.

A new place for a city hospital is necessary, as the one heretofore in use is no longer fit for the purpose. Dr. Robinson, as health officer, has given the matter attention, and on his recommendation a committee was appointed at the last meeting of the council to consider the matter, to examine certain premises that had been offered for sale, and to report to you thereon. The question of location is surrounded with many difficulties, but if one suitable can be found sufficiently remote from surrounding habitations, I would recommend that it be purchased rather than rented.

FINANCIAL CONDITION.

The present condition of the several funds is as follows:

School fund, cash in treasury	$6,318 75
General fund, cash in treasury	1,610 79
Fire department fund, cash in treasury
Bonded debt fund, cash in treasury	100 00
Library fund, cash in treasury	521 41
Gas fund, cash in treasury	1,182 73
First ward fund, cash in treasury	12 25
Second ward fund, cash in treasury	517 38
Third ward fund, cash in treasury
Fourth ward fund, cash in treasury	47 71
Fifth ward fund, cash in treasury	11 187
City bonds due October 1st, 1881	8,500 00

With the prospective increase in taxation for some years to come, I need scarcely say that the same rigid economy in our annual expenditures that has been exercised by our predecessors in office, should characterize our acts, and thereby make it manifest that the trust repose in us by the electors of the city was not undeserved.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion permit me to say that it is my especial duty, and shall be my aim to preserve the peace and good order of the city, to enforce its laws and ordinances, and it will be my pleasure at all times, and in all matters pertaining to its interests and prosperity, to render you such assistance as I can.

B. B. Eldredge, Esq., of the board of water commissioners, by permission, addressed the council. He stated that he had been appointed chairman of the committee to notify the council of the organization of the board by the election of John J. R. Pease as president and M. M. Phelps as secretary. He had also been instructed to ask the council to designate a place of meeting for the board, or to give the board permission to select an office for their use. He also requested the council to place some funds to the credit of the fund created by the law governing the organization of a board of water commissioners, for paying office rent, also for the purchase of such records, stationery and furniture as may be required. He made this request for funds knowing that it was too late for a special tax to be raised for that purpose and the board must of necessity be under some expense before the plans and specifications required could be presented to the council for their consideration. He stated that the board would be as careful in the way of expense as possible. They had decided to dispense with the services of a clerk, and only required a small room where records, maps, etc., could be easy of access.

On motion of Ald. Croft, an appropriation of $200 was made, payable from the general fund, for the purpose of meeting the immediate expenses of the water commissioners.

Ald. Fathers moved that the board of water commissioners be empowered to select a room suitable for their use, at the expense of the city. Adopted.

Ald. C. C. McLean presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Noes—Alds. Fathers, Judd and Thoroughgood.

On motion of Ald. J. B. McLean, the council proceeded to ballot for a health officer—Alds. J. B. McLean, Fathers and Rooney appointed tellers. The informal ballot resulted:

This evening, April 29th, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a meeting of the Girls' Social club at their rooms for the purpose of voting upon the proposed constitution and bylaws. A full attendance of the club is desired, and it will be a good opportunity for those who are interested in the club to learn thoroughly its objects and methods. Following the meeting will be some music and an interesting talk from Mrs. May H. Hawley, M. D., about "Health and How to Keep it."

Briefiets.

—General Prentiss at the rink to-morrow evening—"Battle of Shiloh".

—The Champion dairy and Woodruff's buckle factory are now connected with the telephone exchange.

—Go and hear General Prentiss' lecture on the "Battle of Shiloh", at the rink to morrow evening.

—The Choral Union held their regular weekly rehearsal last evening, there being a very fair attendance.

—Notwithstanding the wet weather, this season seems to be reasonably well advanced. Yesterday afternoon a five leaf clover was found by a fourth ward lady, this being very early for such farm produce.

—General Prentiss is an interesting and eloquent lecturer—at the rink tomorrow evening.

—There has been little search for the men who broke jail Monday night. The officers consider that the capture of the fugitives would not be of enough importance to warrant the spending of so much money.

—The next Minnesota land excursion will leave Janesville, Monday, May 10th, Fare for round trip $10. For particulars call on Wheeler & Stevens, the real estate men.

—The "Battle of Shiloh" was one of the great battles of the rebellion, and General Prentiss is one of the heroic survivors. Hear his lecture in that bloody strife, to-morrow evening at the rink.

—A party of six land excursionists started for Minnesota Monday, the 26th inst. This is the second party sent out by the real estate firm of Wheeler & Stevens.

—Now that the struggle is all over, we earnestly hope the Recorder will tell the people what it knows about political "rings" and "slates;" how they are made, and broken. The Gazette volunteers to give a concluding chapter for the benefit of the "official organ."

—Our readers will not forget the lecture on "The Battle of Shiloh," by General B. M. Prentiss, at the rink on to morrow evening. General Prentiss was one of the most conspicuous commanders in that great battle; is an interesting entertaining and eloquent speaker, and as the lecture is for the benefit of the Grand Army Post, the rink should be crowded. The price of admission is 25 cents, and reserved seats at 35 cents. Seats can be secured at King's bookstore.

—We are glad that the rumor spoken of in Sunday's Recorder in relation to the claim of the republican candidate for street commissioner, that he had enough democratic votes promised to appoint him, proved to be unfounded. While we have no personal objection to Mr. Brown, yet the council being democratic we could not do otherwise than suggest the impropriety of his appointment at their hands. The Recorder reiterates its former statement that the council could not afford to appoint any one but a democrat for street commissioner—Recorder of this morning.

Well, what are you going to do about it?

—Last evening the Hon. John Winans as mayor of Janesville, delivered his second annual message to the common council. The document is published with the council proceedings in this number of the Gazette. The message, while brief, is an able, candid and truthful statement of facts, and indicates that Mayor Winans, while very conservative, is upon the right side of the local questions now being agitated for the improvement of our city. It should be carefully read by every citizen of Janesville.

—At a recent Sunday school session the little people's class engaged the attention of the audience in a special programme, arranged for the occasion. In the class was a bright little boy whose mind was largely occupied with Texas on account of a prospective trip which he was anticipating with much pleasure. The teacher talked to the class about Heaven with its streets of gold and gates of pearl, and turning to the bright eyed little fellow said, "Johnnie, if you was going away from home on a long journey, where would you rather go"? "Texas", came the answer, clear and distinct. He went.

—With seven democratic members in the council, the democratic candidate for street commissioner last evening only received four votes on the informal ballot, and his name dropped out of sight on the first formal ballot. It was a Madden-ed crowd that passed down the stairs when the final result was announced, that a republican had secured the "plum." And yet, the Recorder, which by the way, very narrowly escaped from the "gang plank," has the audacity to claim a democrat in the person of the street commissioner elect, who has always been, and is now, an enthusiastic supporter of the principles of the republican party. Your "party lush" did not fall heavy enough, Mr. Recorder, and there was too much "personal" interest at stake, etc.

Life Saving.

Janesville is a beautiful city; her city government is good in the main; our fire department is as good as any city in the west of its size, and our citizens are progressive and industrious even to a fault. We are all bent on making money, and in our haste to be rich, we have neglected one branch of public care. We seem to have forgotten that our city has one of the most dangerous rivers in the state, running right through its center, and every once in a while some one falls in and finds a watery grave. Last week a child was lost in the river, and everyone that saw the child fall in was powerless to render aid, for lack of some appliance to reach the unfortunate. The city has not spent a dime in the purchase of a life buoy or raft, boat hook, or boat rope, or line of any sort for use in case of such emergency. There ought to be at least one or two boats at each bridge and at the dams, boats of sufficient size to be safe for any one to use, There ought to be life buoys and lines at the sides of the bridges and along the river edge within easy reach in case of accident. As it is we are surely criminally negligent in making no provision for life saving on Rock river. Every bridge in the city of Milwaukee is supplied with life buoys and lines ready at any time; but we have nothing, absolutely nothing. Let our city government pause a moment and make some little provision in case of accident.

Respectfully,
SAMUEL LUCO.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Town of Milton Sues for Damages Caused by a Defective Sidewalk.

The Evidence in the Brown-Mackin Case Finished.

The case of the Teichman Commission Co., of St. Louis, against E. D. Nelson was brought up yesterday afternoon, and after a short examination, it was decided to refer it. The referee has not yet been decided upon. Sale & Pierce and Winans & Hyzer appear for the plaintiff, while Fethers, Jeffris & Smith represent the defendant.

The case of Dr. Almond Patterson, of Beloit, charged with malpractice, was continued until the next term, on account of the defendant's sickness.

The case of Brown against Mackin is now on trial, Fethers, Jeffris & Smith representing the plaintiff and Buckley & Wickham, the defendant. The testimony has been completed and this afternoon the arguments are being made. The suit grew out of Mackins refusal to pay Brown the full amount agreed upon for work in excavating the cellar of his new building on Milwaukee street. Brown took out a mechanics lein on the building and the action is to foreclose it.

This morning the jury in the case of Loretta Hoffman against the town of Milton was sent out to view the ground. They returned about noon evidently delighted with the scenery. In this case Mrs. Hoffman claims damages for injuries received from a defective sidewalk in Milton. The accident happened in 1884. She has as attorneys Dunwiddie & Golden and Winans & Hyzer while the town is represented by Sale & Pierce.

MULCAIRNS WEAKENS.

He Confesses taking Schmitz' Money; but Geiser Still Holds Out.

Yesterday afternoon Patrick Mulcairns and Albert Geiser were brought up in the municipal court. Afterwards at the jail Mulcairns made a confession to Marshal Hogan in which he stated that he found the pocket books and took what money was in them. The book containing notes and papers was thrown into a privy vault but afterwards recovered, while the other was thrown into the river near Monterey rock. About fifty dollars of the money was spent, ten dollars on a horse trade, some on livery bills and other debts and some in betting on Geiser at pool and losing. Geiser was evidently a bad man to rely on at pool, but at keeping his mouth shut he is an artist. So far no confession whatever has been drawn from him and he asserts his innocence strongly, giving a very plausible account of where he got the money found in his possession. Mulcairns gives an entirely different account of the money and says that his companion received it from him for various things and that when the pocket books were first taken he insisted on receiving a dollar as hush money.

... What Locality is Exempt

From malaria? In the city and suburb, village and hamlet, in the mining districts of the west, the bottom lands of the south, in regions teeming with the fruits of husbandry, in trackless wastes inhabited by half naked savages it exists, But travelers, sojourners, old settlers, all who are liable to it, can uproot from the system the diseases to which it gives birth, or prevent them, with Hostetters Stomach Bitters. Chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are each and all overcome by this potent and searching specific. It is not less efficacious for liver complaint, dyspepsia and costiveness, ailments not unfrequently complicated with malarial attacks. Rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, and a want of vital strength, are also remediable by its persistent use. Appetite and sleep, always seriously impaired by the nervous disturbance and biliousness consequent upon fever and ague, are invariably restored by the Bitters.
